Ex-PM Ehud Barak launches mobile app designed to save lives

With Reporty, Israel becomes the first country to launch a nationwide platform providing live video, chat and pinpoint location services to emergency operators • Barak: At a time when reality is so challenging, this is a way to make people feel safe.

Ilan Gattegno, Israel Hayom Staff and Reuters

Former Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak, chairman of and investor in Reporty, poses with Reporty founders in Tel Aviv | Photo credit: Reuters